The Personnel Services Division effectively utilizes the latest technological equipment for incoming and outgoing communications.

Progress on Recommendations and Improvement Plan

1. The Personnel Services Division has developed a communication policy and procedures that is still in the draft stage and has not yet been finalized or instituted. The draft covers use of telephones and voicemail and creates telephone answering groups. Included in the draft is a proposed requirement that voice mail be responded to at least twice a day or in no case longer than 24 hours.
2. Included in Personnel Services Division's draft communication policy and procedures is a chart that defines telephone answering groups. The draft procedures do not address how the groups are to function. Specific responsibility for covering assigned telephone numbers is not spelled out. These draft procedures have not been implemented.
3. The assessment team was provided with a copy of a flow chart showing the steps required to establish a new position and to fill a vacant position. The flow chart will be included in the Operational Procedures Manual and has not yet been distributed to anyone outside personnel. The team was also provided copies of two procedures that were contained in the Operational Procedures Manual that describe how a Personnel Requisition Form is processed. The job application form requests information that is legal, useful, pertinent, and easily understood.

Progress on Recommendations and Improvement Plan

1. The district has developed a preliminary draft of an Application for Certificated Employment based on the review of applications from the following districts: San Ramon Valley Unified School District, Los Banos Unified School District, Mt. Diablo Unified School District, Antioch Unified School District, and the Contra Costa County Office of Education. At the time of the review, the draft did not include an e-mail field for applicants. The district is in the process of refining the draft application with a goal of adopting it by January 2002.
2. The draft application document did not include "Source Referral" information. Staff is planning to add "Source Referral" descriptions to the application and insert descriptions into the BiTech applicant tracking module in order to retrieve recruitment data for future reports.
3. At the time of the review, the "Voluntary Applicant/Employer Identification" section was not separated from the original application. Staff is planning to have a separate sheet for this information. Data will be entered into BiTech for future use by staff.
4. The draft application document currently asks the questions regarding previous dismissal and/or resignations. It is also included in the draft section titled "Input Information for All Applicants;" Questions 1 and 2 inquire whether an applicant has ever resigned or was dismissed for cause.

Progress on Recommendations and Improvement Plan

1. The Personnel Services Division revised and issued Bulletin P-7 (9/21/01) titled “Reference Checks for Certificated Candidates” to all principals. It reminded principals that all candidates must have at least one reference check on file before hiring can be completed. Principals who obtain references may fax or send them by school mail to Personnel Services Division. There was no evidence that a completed interview sheet was routinely submitted as part of the employment process.
2. Bulletin P-7, “Reference Check for Certificated Candidates,” was distributed to all principals (9/21/01) and a memo titled “Reference Check for New Subs” informed the Substitute Placement Clerk that no person would be hired without a reference check.
3. There was no written documentation outlining a substitute teacher hiring policy that included reference checks or a documented oral interview. However, it was assumed by the Personnel Services Division staff that the reference check policy extended to all substitutes.
4. Written correspondence has been developed and signed by the Director of Certificated Personnel to alert the candidate of the status of his/her employment application. Detailed instructions relative to obtaining a teaching position and the district’s job fair are also included. In addition, a letter has been developed notifying the candidate of an incomplete application. The letter informs the candidates of the missing items that need to be submitted for employment consideration.
5. It was observed during the visitation and through written operational documents that e-mail and faxes are used daily. For example, principals are instructed to send completed references via fax.

Legal Standard

Employment procedures and practices are conducted in a manner that ensures equal employment opportunities. Written hiring procedures are provided. (Education Code 44100-44105)

Progress on Recommendations and Improvement Plan

1. The Personnel Services Division uses a spreadsheet application at the Senior Personnel Assistant's desk to track the progress of personnel requisitions. The information is primarily used by the Senior Personnel Assistant, although it is placed on the "H" drive for viewing by the schools and other offices. The information is very limited and does not reflect current status of the personnel action. Information regarding the filling of regular ongoing positions is not included. Personnel does not have a process for identifying positions that have not been filled within some predetermined guidelines.
2. The Classified Personnel Department has not established a process whereby supervisors are asked to assist in the development of appropriate promotional examination materials. Personnel has begun, on a selected basis, to involve supervisors, but it has not been institutionalized. As the district begins to update job descriptions and qualifications, the identification of appropriate testing materials should be improved.
3. The Personnel Services Division includes a one-page document on its Web page that describes the classified employee selection process for applicants. The draft of the Operational Procedures Manual also includes a flow chart portraying the process for initiating a new position and filling existing vacancies. The assessment team was not provided any detailed procedure that set forth the steps required of supervisors to initiate filling a position and the subsequent steps to be taken by the Personnel Office.
4. The district has presented to Local 1 a comprehensive bargaining proposal that would modify existing contract language in hiring, promotions and transfers. The proposed language would include other criteria in addition to seniority when considering applicants.
5. The Personnel Services Division has currently set a meeting in November 2001 to examine the district's practices with regard to the use of temporaries and substitutes. The Personnel Services Division has not yet modified its practices; however, the Personnel Services Division is working with Legal Services to determine appropriate practices.

2. The Personnel Services Division provides assistance to new employees in understanding payroll and benefit entitlement requirements and compliance issues. A checklist is used to assure completion of all employment requirements.
3. There is no evidence of principals' or supervisors' involvement in planning and presenting orientation programs for certificated employees. It was reported that principals and supervisors would be involved in annual planning meetings for new teachers.
4. New Teacher Handbooks have been developed for elementary and secondary employees. Handbooks are comprehensive and include excellent material for new teachers.

2. The assessment team was presented a new Operational Procedures Manual for the division. Included in this handbook is a page regarding tuberculosis testing, containing three basic statements concerning testing for new and current employees. This information can form the basis for necessary step-by-step procedures that detail how individuals in the division process tests for new employees as well as how division staff monitor current employees, including notification and follow-up by letter or other forms of communication.
3. The Personnel Services Division is working with district legal counsel to review tuberculosis testing requirements for new and current employees. This work is designed to result in the development of uniform consequences for those employees who fail to comply with such requirements.
4. The Personnel Services Division is working with Management Information Services (MIS) to explore the feasibility of using the BiTech computer system applicant tracking and/or credentials modules to track the names of current employees and their tuberculosis renewal dates.
